

Mail Services Review

For collection agencies, accounts receivable management organizations and credit departments, the right print and mail management outsourcing partner can bring powerful and sustained benefits, including increased profits; better cash flow; and reduced return mail.

For more than 25 years, PSC Info Group, a SAS 70 Level II Compliant company, has coupled its industry expertise with state-of-the-art technology to provide value-added print, mail, and electronic services to our clients in the accounts receivable management, healthcare, finance, credit and collections, communications, government, education, insurance and utilities industries. Our advanced operations allow us to easily work within different market sectors providing us with an advanced expertise on printing and mailing.

Meeting the changing needs and pricing concerns of our clients, PSC has developed solutions including but not limited to perforated enclosed self-mailers, security protected postcards, and bi-fold communications.

PSC Info Group operates production facilities in both the eastern and western United States, enabling us to process, print and mail communications in the most appropriate location to minimize mail time. Our dual site processing capability also provides disaster recovery and business continuity assurance if one of our facilities temporarily goes down.

In addition, PSC offers online document delivery (eLetters), viewing and archiving including print-on-demand; address standardization and cleansing; automated return mail management; and a variety of powerful skip-tracing services to create a complete, client-defined solution.

Whether your organization is a traditional collection agency working on a contingency basis or servicing accounts from a purchased “debt portfolio”, or managing accounts receivable for a credit department, PSC Info Group is committed to working with you in these tough economic times to provide the best solution for your needs.
